1. ORGANIZATION

This Instruction defines the method of filling in and submitting statistical reports on births and deaths, Death Certificates, statistical reports on the conclusion of marriages, and Overview of entries in the registers.

Legal basis of data collection

The legal basis for the collection of data on births, deaths and marriages are the Law on Statistics in the Federation of BiH ("Official Gazette of the Federation of BiH" no. 63/03 and 9/09), the Law on Registers (Official Gazette of the Federation of BiH No. 37 /12 and 80/14) and the Rulebook on the method of examining the deceased and determining the time and cause of death ("Official Gazette of the Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina", number 79/13).

Forms

The following forms are used to collect data in the statistics of births and deaths and statistics of marriages:
- statistical birth report - form DEM-1,
- statistical report on the case of death - form DEM-2,
- death certificate,
- statistical report on the conclusion of marriage (wedding) - form DEM-3 i
- review of entries in the registers - form DEM-4.

Entities responsible for filling out statistical reports

Entities authorized to provide and deliver data on the above forms are registry offices and health organizations, doctors and other persons authorized to determine death.

Registrar

The registrar is obliged to:
- fills in the corresponding statistical form at each entry in the register;
- receives the Death Certificate issued by health organizations, doctors and other persons authorized to determine death and attaches them to DEM-2 form;
- obtains a Temporary Death Certificate and burial permit for cases of death when a longer period of time is required to determine the cause of death, i.e. when diagnostic methods such as toxicological, pathohistological, DNA analysis, etc., need to be performed to determine the cause of death.

- submits all completed forms together with the attached Death Certificates to the competent cantonal statistics office.

Health organizations, doctors and other persons authorized to determine death

Health organizations, doctors and other persons authorized to determine death are required to issue a Death Certificate in accordance with the Rulebook on the method of examining the deceased and determining the time and cause of death.

The cantonal statistics services control the received material, prepare forms for processing and enter data, a
The Federal Bureau of Statistics consolidates all collected data, controls them and publishes processed statistical data.

Data collection area

Registration of births and deaths is done in the books of the home area where it was last registered residence of the mother of the child born, or for a deceased person, the last registered residence.
Registration of cases of marriage is done in the registers of the home area where the case took place.
The registry area includes one or more populated places for which a single registrar keeps the registers of births, deaths and marriages.
In order to avoid double entries in the registry books, the registrar is obliged to first determine where the case occurred and to make the entry only when he determines that he is competent.
If the registrar maintains register books for several places (registered areas), he should pay attention to make the entry in the book for the corresponding place.

Entries in the registry books

The birth of a child is registered in the register of births by the registrar of the registry office of the municipality/city where the child's mother has a registered residence, and if she does not have a registered residence, the registration is done in the registry office of the home area where the child was born based on the child's birth registration. This method of registration applies to both live-born and stillborn children.

Children of foreign citizens whose status is regulated by the Law on the Movement and Residence of Foreigners ("Official Gazette of BiH", no. 36/08 and 87/12) and refugees born in the Federation, i.e. Bosnia and Herzegovina, as well as children of other foreigners residing in Bosnia and Herzegovina are entered in the register of births according to the registered place of residence, and if they do not have a registered place of residence, then according to the registered place of residence, and if they do not have a registered place of residence or residence, the child is entered in the register of births according to the place of birth of the child.

All cases of death are entered in the register of deaths in the country, which is kept for the register area where the last registered residence of the deceased person was, and if there is no registered residence, then the last known residence of the deceased person. If neither residence is registered nor residence is known, in that case the death is registered in the register of the deceased in the place of burial of that person in FBiH.

All cases of marriages that took place in a particular region of the country are entered in the country's civil registers .

Cases of births, deaths and marriages that took place abroad and were not registered in the registers are also entered in these books.
books kept by our diplomatic and consular missions. These cases are registered on the basis of the Law on Civil Registry Books.

All cases of birth are registered in the registers abroad maintained by our diplomatic and consular missions.
deaths and marriages reported by our citizens for registration in the registers.

When registering stillborn children, as well as children who died immediately after birth or in the first hours and days of life, the definitions of live and stillborn children, or abortions, which are given in the section for filling out the statistical birth report DEM-1, are applied.

If the registrar has determined:
- if the child is stillborn, enter it only in the register of births and fill out the DEM-1 form
- if the child was born alive, but died soon after birth, it is entered first in the register of births and fills out form DEM-1, and then in the register of deaths and fills out form DEM-2;
- if, considering the duration of the pregnancy, it is a question of abortion (abortion) , no entry is made either in the register of births or in the register of deaths, nor are statistical forms DEM-1 and DEM-2 filled in, since for these cases (abortions) are filled out by statistical forms determined by health statistics.

Time of data collection

Every statistical form, as a rule, must be filled out immediately when registering every case of birth, death and marriage in the register. The data contained in the register are transferred from the register, and the other data from the DEM - form.
The registrar will transcribe the answers to the other questions from the DEM - forms from the birth registration, death certificate or marriage record or will ask for them from the case applicant who needs to know this information (father or mother for birth registration, adult member of the household who knows data on the deceased for the death report, spouses at the time of marriage).

Duties of the registrar

The registrar is obliged to regularly perform all tasks related to filling out statistical forms DEM-1, DEM-2, and DEM-3 and DEM-4.

If the registrar is temporarily or permanently prevented from performing his duty, he must provide his deputy with all the necessary instructions and explanations for filling in and submitting statistical forms.

In addition, the registrar hands his deputy all the necessary material: completed and empty forms as well as these Instructions.

The registrar receives statistical forms from the competent service for statistics of the canton in the necessary quantities. As soon as he notices that the stock is reduced to the amount needed for 2 months, he will ask for a certain amount of forms to be delivered to him. Given that the forms are, as a rule, filled out in the presence of the case applicant, the registrar must not be left without these forms. The registrar should take care that the forms are not destroyed or scattered, but that they are used exclusively for the purposes for which they are intended.

With each completed statistical report on a death case, the registrar attaches one copy of the Death Certificate. If the death certificate was obtained subsequently, and before the submission of the statistical forms to the competent statistical authority, the registrar attaches this, subsequently obtained form to that form. If the statistical form has already been submitted, it will be submitted later.

The registrar is obliged to act upon the request of the statistical authority when the latter determines that there are incompleteness and inaccuracies in the received forms and requests additions, corrections or explanations. The registrar is obliged to submit all additions, corrections and explanations within three days from the date of receipt of the request at the latest.

2. COMPLETING THE FORMS

The registrar is obliged to enter the correct answer to each question on the statistical forms according to the Instructions for filling out each form. If in a specific case the given instructions are not sufficient, the registrar should request the necessary explanations from the competent statistical authority. The cantonal statistics services of the canton are obliged to urgently provide the registrar with all the explanations necessary for filling out the statistical forms. Answers are given by entering data on the provided lines or by circling one of the codes next to the given response modalities.

3. STATISTICAL REPORT ON BIRTH - form DEM-1

When registering in the register of births, the registrar must fill out a statistical birth report for each live and stillborn child - form DEM-1. A special form is also filled out for each child from a multiple birth, live or stillborn.

In the header of the DEM-1 form, in addition to the answers to the questions about the place of registration: canton, municipality/city, register area, register/local office, current number of registration in the register and date of registration (day, month and year of registration), you should also enter information about place of birth: municipality/city, town or foreign country.

If the registry book is kept for two or more places, only the place that is written first on the cover of the book is entered.

When entering answers to individual questions, the registrar should act according to the following explanations.

1. The child was born alive or dead

[!! complete expulsion, every product !!]

The answer can be "alive" in which case code 1 should be circled or "dead" in which case code 2 should be circled.

According to the recommendations of the World Health Organization, the definition of live birth is: "Live birth is the complete expulsion or removal of the fetus from the mother's body, regardless of the length of the pregnancy, which after that separation breathes or shows other signs of life, such as heartbeat, pulsation of the umbilical cord or clear voluntary muscle movements, regardless of whether the umbilical cord was cut or the placenta was attached; every product of such a birth is considered a live-born child".

For every child born alive, regardless of how long it lived after birth, the DEM-1 form must be filled out.

If the child was born, i.e. removed from the mother's body, without any signs of life, i.e. was not breathing or showing any other signs of life (heart beat, muscle movements) and has a birth weight of 500 grams or more, it will be considered stillborn (late fetal death), but provided that it was carried by the mother for more than 22 weeks.

Statistical form DEM-1 is filled out for each stillborn child.

If the fetus was carried for less than 22 weeks, and after being separated from the mother's body, it did not show signs of life, then it is a miscarriage (early and intermediate fetal death).

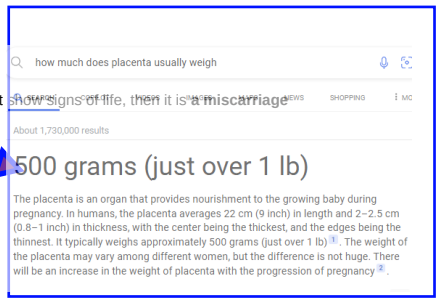
For an abortion, neither the Death Certificate nor the statistical forms DEM-1 and DEM-2 are filled out.



2. Child's name

Only the birth name of the child should be entered (not the family name). If when registering a birth (by the date of submission of the form to the competent canton statistics office) the name was not reported to the registrar, as the answer you should enter "son or daughter - the name has not yet been determined".

3. Gender of the child

Code 1 for male or code 2 for female should be circled.

4. Date of birth and JMB

The date of birth and the other 6 numbers of the unique identification number (JMB) should be entered in the boxes.

If the JMB has not been determined by the date of submission of the form to the statistical office, then only the date of birth should be entered (e.g. for a person born on January 8, 2015 should enter 0801015 in the boxes).

The date of birth for a found child (optionally) is entered according to the assessment of the competent authority that draws up the record of the found to a child.

5. Weight of the child

Birth weight is the first weight of the fetus or newborn child measured immediately after birth and expressed in grams.

For example, if the weight of the child is 3 kilograms and 800 grams, enter 3800.

In the event that the Notification of Birth is not available, nor can the answer to this question be obtained in another way (from the applicant), the registrar does not fill in the box. The registrar will do the same if he fills out the form for a found child.

6. Length of the child

The length of the child at birth is the first height of the fetus or newborn child measured immediately after birth and expressed in centimeters.

For example, if the length of the child is 58 centimeters, enter 58.

If the answer to this question cannot be obtained in another way (from the applicant), the registrar does not fill in the box. The registrar will do the same if you fill out the form for a found child.

Machine Translated by Google

7. Gestational age

Gestational age or duration of pregnancy is calculated in days or weeks of pregnancy (gestation). It is measured from the first day to the last normal menstrual cycle and is expressed in completed weeks.

For example, if the gestational age is 37 weeks, enter 37 in the box.

If the answer to this question cannot be obtained in another way (from the applicant), the registrar does not fill in the box. Registrar will do the same if he fills out the form for a found child.

8. Place of residence of the mother

For the place of residence of the mother, enter the canton, municipality/city, town, street and house number of the place of residence (place of permanent housing) of the mother of the child born.

For a mother who gave birth to a child in a place other than her place of residence (eg in a hospital, away, etc.), the place where she permanently resides is entered, i.e. her place of residence.

For a found child (optional), the canton, municipality/city and populated place where the child was found is entered.

For a mother whose residence is outside Bosnia and Herzegovina, the name of the country of her residence must be entered.

The name of residence should be entered according to the valid administrative division.

8b. If the mother is absent from her place of residence for a year or longer, the place of residence should be entered (the time year (not calendar) preceding the child's birth date is taken into account).

If the mother was absent from the place of residence specified in the previous question for more than one year until the birth of the child, for this question, you should enter the place of residence: canton, municipality/city, town, street and house number where the mother lives.

If the mother resides abroad for a year or longer, the name of the country of her residence must be entered.

For a mother who was not absent from the place of residence (specified in the previous question) or was absent for less than one year, a hyphen (-) is entered as an answer to this question.

This question should not be answered for a found child - by choice. You only need to enter a dash (-).

Persons who, as employees or family members of employees working in diplomatic and consular services , stay abroad, regardless of the length of their stay abroad, are not considered absent from Bosnia and Herzegovina , and in that case the answer is given only to the previous question, and to this one a hyphen (-) is entered in questions.

9. Place of delivery

As an answer, only one of the codes from the form should be circled.

If the child was born in a maternity hospital or other health facility, code 1 should be circled , regardless of who assisted in the delivery.

If the child was born in an apartment or in another place, one of the codes should be circled: 2, 3 or 4 according to who provided assistance during the birth.

If a medical doctor provided assistance during the birth, code 2 should be circled. Code 2 should also be circled if the birth was attended by a medical doctor and an obstetric nurse - midwife.

If assistance during childbirth was provided only by an obstetric nurse - midwife, who has the appropriate professional qualifications, it should be circled code 3.

If the delivery was assisted by a nurse, physician's assistant, orderly, or other person with a middle age or lower medical school, but is not qualified to assist in childbirth, circle code 4 (other person) as the answer.

Code 4 should be circled for found children .

10. Number of children born from this delivery

The answer to this question should be given in every case, regardless of whether only one child was born or twins, three or more children were born and regardless of how many of them were born alive and how many were stillborn, and even in the case that all children were stillborn. As an answer, one should circle one of the codes 1, 2 or 3 , which indicate the number of children born in this delivery.

If the data on the birth are not known (nachocad), it will be considered that only one child was born.

11. How many children has the mother given birth to so far (including this child)

The total number of children the mother gave birth to, including the child for whom the form is being filled out, should be entered on this question . All children (born alive and stillborn) from this and previous marriages of the mother should be entered, as well as the children of this mother born out of wedlock, if she had them, but not the father's children from previous marriages.

Then data on the number of live births and stillbirths out of the total number previously registered is entered. Definition of live birth and stillbirth can be found in the explanations related to question number 1.

If the form is filled out for a child from a multiple birth (twins, three or more children), registration in the registers is done according to the order of birth of each child in that birth, as it would be done if they were born in births with one child. Therefore, as an answer for the first child from a multiple birth, only one child will be taken into account, for the second, two children will be taken into account, etc., and to that number should be added the number of children from the previous births of this mother, if there were any.

For example, the mother gave birth to two live children before the birth for which the report is submitted, and now three more children are being reported from triple birth, the first of which was a live birth, and the second and third were stillborn. Answer to this question for children from this birth:
in the slip for the first child: in the slip for the second child: in the slip for the third child:
total-three total-four total-five live birth-three live birth-three live birth-three stillborn-none stillborn-one stillborn-two.

"Unknown" is entered for the found child.

12. How many of these children are alive (including this child, if born alive)

The answer to this question includes children who were alive at the time of this child's birth, including him, if he was born alive, even if he died immediately after birth (because information is requested on the number of living children at the time of birth, not at the moment of registration in the register, which can be done even after a few days).

Machine Translated by Google

The answer includes only children born to this mother in this, previous marriages or out of wedlock, if she had them, but not children from her husband's previous marriage, if she married a man who has children from a previous marriage or from a time before this marriage . All living children of this mother are included , regardless of whether these children live together with her or live separately.

If the form is being filled out for a child from a multiple birth, the order should be taken into account when entering the answers to this question of the birth of each child in that delivery.

For example, a mother gave birth to one live and one dead child in a multiple birth, and she has two living children from her previous children. The answer on the form for the first child will be "three", and for the second child also "three".

However, if a stillborn child is entered first, then the answer on the first slip will be "two" and on the second "three".

"Unknown" is entered for the found child.

13. A child is born

As an answer, circle one of the following codes:

- born in marriage - code 1
- born out of wedlock:
  - parents live together - code 2
  - parents do not live together - code 3
- found child (at will) - code 4.

A child born in wedlock is considered only one who was born in a marriage concluded according to the provisions of the Family Law.

Healthcare organizations are obliged to do so no later than 5 days after receiving the request from the registrar.

In circumstances where a longer period of time is required to determine the cause of death, i.e. when it is necessary to perform diagnostic methods such as toxicological, pathohistological, DNA analysis, etc., to determine the cause of death, a temporary death certificate is issued, in which case the cause of death he writes "in obs.".

In the case when the medical documentation about the deceased is not available (because the applicant provided the wrong medical organization or doctor or for any other reason), the health organization is obliged to notify the registrar within the same period.

Also, owners of agricultural holdings are not included in this group who employ other persons (owners of livestock farms, chicken farms, etc.), i.e. individual farmers with employees.

Self-employed - code 3

The answer "Self-employed (does not employ others)" is marked for a person who is the owner of a company, shop, office or works in cooperation with another person, while not employing workers. This code is also given to people who do most of the work on their own unregistered jobs (services of giving private lessons, translation, freelance, sewing, babysitting, selling at markets).

Helping household member - code 4

Machine Translated by Google

The answer "Helping member of the household" is marked for people who work without pay in a company, trade or farm led by their relative with whom he lives in the same household.

This category includes for example:

- son or daughter who work in the parental business or parental farm without payment i
- a woman who helps her husband in his business, without a contract and receiving a formal salary.

If it is not possible to determine one of the offered modalities, code 9 should be circled, i.e. unknown.

7. INSPECTION OF ENTRY IN REGISTRY BOOKS - form DEM-4

The review of registrations in the registers is compiled monthly according to the time of registration, not according to the time when the case happened. For example, a child born in December and registered in the registry of births in January will be included in the report for January, when it was also registered in the registry.

The registrar compiles an overview of registrations in the registers (form DEM-4) every month for the previous month, even when no cases were entered in the registers during the previous month. The form should be submitted to the cantonal statistics service no later than 3 days after the end of the reporting month, together with the statistical reports and their attachments. The registrar fills out this form in at least two copies, one of which is submitted to the competent statistical institute together with the statistical reports - forms DEM-1, DEM-2 and DEM-3, and the other is kept for his records.

If the registrar maintains register books for two or more registrar offices, he fills out a separate DEM-4 form for each office.

This form is filled out based on the entries made in the registry books and must include data for all registry areas, that is, for each registry registry.

When compiling this review, the registrar must take care that the current numbers of entries in the registers continue correctly, i.e. that in each monthly report he includes only those entries that were made in the respective registers under the ordinal number that follows the number with which he concluded the review for previous month.

A corresponding statistical report must be completed for each current number of registrations in the registers (except canceled registrations). In addition, each statistical death report (DEM-2 form) must be accompanied by a Death Certificate form, and for persons who were treated or died a violent death, a Medical Report on the cause of death.

The DEM-4 form is drawn up by the registrar as follows.

In the header of the form, you should enter the month to which the Review of entries in the registers refers, as well as the name of the canton, municipality/city and the seat of the registrar.

In column 1, you should enter the serial numbers of all register areas for which register books are kept at this registrar's office.

In column 2, you should enter in alphabetical order every populated place for which special registers are kept, if some vital event happened during the month. For populated places where there were no vital events, it should be stated at the end of the form "there were no vital events in other populated places".

In columns 3, 9 and 17, the corresponding current number of the first entry made during the reporting month should be entered, and in column 4, 10th and 18th current number of the last entry in the same month.

In columns 5, 11 and 19, you should enter how many entries there were in individual registers during the reporting month. For example, the first entry in January 2015 was made under the current number 1, and the last one under 16, total of 16 entries; in February, the first entry under number 17, and the last under number 27, all entries 27-16=11 (the current number of the last entry from the previous month should be subtracted).

In columns 6, 16 and 20, you should enter the number of subsequent and repeated entries in individual registers during the reporting period. month.

In column 7, the total number of cases of recognition of paternity should be entered, and in column 8, the number of cases of enactment of a child for which a note was entered in the register of births during the respective month. There is no need to fill out special statistical sheets for these cases.

The number of accidents, murders and suicides should be entered in columns 12, 13 and 14 .

After entering the data in all columns, the registrar vertically adds the numbers entered in individual columns and enters the sums in the "total" line. If during the reporting month no entry was made in the registry books, the registrar should enter a hyphen (-) in the corresponding columns of the DEM-4 form.

For each canceled registration of birth, death or concluded marriage, the registrar on the DEM-4 form in the "Note" briefly states the reason for the cancellation of the registration; for example "double entry", "entry in the book of another inhabited place" and the like.

8. SUBMISSION OF STATISTICAL REPORTS

The registrar keeps all statistical reports, filled in during the month, together with the Death Certificates, and at the end of each month, submits them to the competent statistical institute no later than three days after the end of the month to which the material relates.

Completed statistical reports, which are submitted together with the Review of Entries in the Registers (DEM-4), must be arranged separately for each register area (area for which registers are kept), if the registrar keeps records for several areas. Within each area, the reports must be arranged separately for births, separately for deaths and separately for concluded marriages, and in each of these groups, also according to current enrollment numbers.

If the registrar keeps books for several offices of the registrar, the reports must be arranged separately for each office, and within each office in the same order as stated in the previous paragraph.

Machine Translated by Google

When submitting the statistical reports completed during the month, the registrar will attach, in a separate envelope, all subsequently obtained Death Certificates from the previous period.

On the basis of the received reports and the Overview of entries in the register (form DEM-4), the canton's statistics office checks whether all the reports listed in DEM-4 have been received, and according to the current numbers listed in DEM-4 and on individual forms. In this way, coverage of vital event statistics is controlled.

DEFINITIONS AND INDICATORS IN

FAMILY PLANNING, MATERNAL & CHILD HEALTH and REPRODUCTIVE HEALTH USED IN WHO/EURO

Overview:

This compilation of definitions and indicators is based on current definitions from several sources (1,2,3,4,5). Where more than one definition or indicator was available, additional sources are included. In addition, formulas are indicated when calculations are necessary. It should be noted that these definitions and indicators are under continuous use and evaluation and are subject to change.

A:

Abortion:

- Induced*: or the voluntary termination of pregnancy, is used to end an already established pregnancy (i.e. a method that acts after nidation has been completed). Unsafe abortion is defined as a procedure for terminating an unwanted pregnancy either by persons lacking the necessary skills or in an environment lacking the minimal medical standards or both. (Division of Family Health and Special Programme of Research and Research Training in Human Reproduction. International Conference on Population and Development, Cairo, Egypt, 5-13 September 1995.)

- Spontaneous*: Termination of pregnancy by expulsion of embryo/foetus before 22 weeks of pregnancy or below 500 gr. of weight. (Source WHO/FHE/MSM/94.11)

Abortion rate

The estimated number of abortions per 1 000 women aged 15/44 years in a given year.

Abortion ratio

The estimated number of abortions per 1 000 live births in a given year

Adolescence, youth and young people

The term "adolescence" has been defined as including those aged between 10 and 19, and “youth" as those between 15 and 24; "young people" is a term that covers both age groups, i.e. those between the ages of 10 and 24. True adolescence, however, being the period of physical, psychological and social maturing from childhood to adulthood, may fall within either age range.

Source: The Reproductive Health of Adolescents: A strategy for action, A Joint WHO/UNFPA/UNICEF Statement, World Health Organization, Geneva, 1989.

Adolescent reproductive health

The goal of overall improved adolescent reproductive health involves: more responsible and equitable relationships between young men and young women before and during marriage; decreased incidence of pregnancy before maturity: lower rates of exposure to and contraction of sexually transmitted diseases; and improvement in the status of women.

The means by which adolescent reproductive health is achieved include: improvement in the knowledge and understanding among all key groups of society - including young people themselves - of the physical, psychological and social aspects of adolescent reproductive health; increased training of key people with influence on adolescents, and of adolescents themselves, in counselling and communication skills; promotion of policies and programmes that reflect the best ways of meeting the reproductive health needs of adolescents, with emphasis on young people as a resource for health and provision of alternatives to early childbearing for young women, including better education to improve their status.

Apgar Score:

Evaluation of a newborn physical status by assigning numeric values (0 to 2) to each of the 5 criteria: 1) heart rate, 2) respiratory effort, 3) muscle tone, 4) response to stimulation and 5) skin color. A score of 8 to 10 indicates the best possible condition.

Apgar score (Low): 6 at five minutes as % of all live births.

(European Consensus Conference on Quality Assurance Indicators for perinatal Care, Tubingen*)..*

B:

Birth: (see also live birth)

The complete expulsion or extraction of a dead fetus of more than 500g or of a live fetus from its mother irrespective of the duration of pregnancy. (Indicators for assessing Breast-feeding Practices).

Birth rate (or crude birth rate)

The number of births per 1000 population in a given year.

Birth weight:

The weight of a neonate determined immediately after delivery or as soon as thereafter as feasible; it should be expressed to the nearest gram. Source: American Academy of Pediatrics. American college of Obst. Gynecologists. Guidelines for Perinatal Care. 4th ed. 1997.

For live births, birth weight should preferably be measured within the first hour of life before significant postnatal weight loss has occurred. While statistical tabulations include 500 g groupings for birth weight, weights should not be recorded in those groupings. The actual weight should be recorded to the degree of accuracy to which it is measured.

The definitions of "low", "very low", and "extremely low" birth weight do not constitute mutually exclusive categories. Below the set limits they are all-inclusive and therefore overlap (i.e. "low" includes "very low" and "extremely low", while "very low" includes "extremely low").

Low birth weight (LBW)
Less than 2500 g (up to and including 2499g).
Very low birth weight (VLBW)
Less than 1500 g (up to and including 1499g).
Extremely low birth weight
Less than 1000 g (up to and including 999g).

If known, at least 500g (1000g), otherwise, gestational age at least 22 weeks or body length crown/heel-at least 25cm) (International classification of diseases)

Birthweight for perinatal statistics:

By weight intervals of 500g, i.e., 1000-1499g, 1500-1999g. etc. (Wagner, M. Having a baby in Europe. Copenhagen: European Regional Office, World Health Organization, 1985, p. 63).

Breast-feeding:

Feeding a baby by allowing him/her to suck at the mother's breast

Exclusive breast-feeding rate: Proportion of infants less than 4 months of age who are exclusively breast-fed (Indicators for Assessing Breast-feeding Practices. WHO Geneva)

EBFR =

$$\frac{\text{Infants less than four months (under 120 days) of age who were exclusively breast-fed in the last 24 hours}}{\text{Infants less than four months (under 120 days) of age}}$$

(Indicators for Assessing Breast-feeding Practices.)

This indicator includes breast-feeding from a wet nurse and feeding on expressed breast milk.

Predominant breast-feeding rate:

The proportion of infants less than four months of age who are predominantly breast fed.

PBFR =

$$\frac{\text{Infants under four months (less than 120 days) of age who were predominantly breast fed in the last 24 hours}}{\text{Infant under four months,(less than 120 days) of age}}$$

(Indicators for Assessing Breast-feeding Practices

Timely complementary feeding rate: Proportion of infants 6-9 months of age who are receiving breast milk and complementary foods (Indicators for Assessing Breast-feeding Practices).

TCFR =

$$\frac{\text{Infants 6-9 months (1 80-299 days of age who received complementary foods in addition to breast milk in the last 24 hours}}{\text{Infants 6-9 months (1 80-299 days) of age}}$$

(Indicators for Assessing Breast-feeding Practices.)

Continued breast-feeding rate (2 years)

CBFR =

$$\frac{\text{Proportion of children 20-23 months of age who are breast-feeding, Children 20-23 months of age who were breast-fed in the last 24 hours}}{\text{Children 20-30 months of age}}$$

(Indicators for Assessing Breast-feeding Practices).

Bottle feeding rate: proportion of infants less than 12 months of age who are receiving any food or drink from a bottle with a nipple/teat.

BFR =

$$\frac{\text{Infants < 12 months (<366 days) of age who were bottle-fed in the last 24 hours}}{\text{Infants < 12 months (<366 days) of age}}$$

(Indicators for Assessing Breast-feeding Practices. Geneva: World Health Organization, Number 10, February 1992)

C:

Caesarean section:

Abdominal delivery of the baby by laparotomy and section of the uterus. Source: WHO/FHE/MSM 94.11

Caesarean section rate: as % of all deliveries

(European Consensus Conference on Quality Assurance Indicators for perinatal Care)

Causes of death:

The causes of death to be entered on the medical certificate of cause of death are all those diseases, morbid conditions or injuries which either resulted in or contributed to death and the circumstances of the accident or violence which produced any such injuries. (WHO Geneva, WHA20.19 WHA43.24, Article 23)

Contraceptive prevalence:

Percentage of couples using a contraceptive method, either modern or traditional.

$$\text{CPR} = \frac{\text{Contraceptive methods use}}{\text{Couples (100 women of fertile age)}}$$

Congenital disorders

Those diseases that are substantially determined before or during birth and which are in principle recognizable in early life. Congenital malformation should be confined to structural defects present at birth, the term congenital anomaly being used to include all biochemical, structural and functional disorders present at birth (Public Health in Europe No.4)

Cost-benefit analysis

The systematic comparison - in monetary terms - of all the costs and benefits of proposed alternative schemes with a view to determining)a) which scheme or combination of schemes will contribute most to the achievement of predetermined objectives at a fixed investment, or (b) the magnitude of the benefit that can result from schemes requiring the minimum investment. The resources required per unit of benefit must be determined, account being taken of the fact that costs and benefits accrue with time (Public Health in Europe No.4)

Crude birth rate:

Annual number of births per 1,000 population (The State of the World's *Children,*1992, UNICEF, p. 98).

Crude death rate:

Epidemiological survey

A survey, which may use screening (q.v.) test, but whose principal aim is not to bring patients to treatment but to elucidate the prevalence, incidence and natural history of a disease under study -though case-finding is a natural by-product of such surveys. Also known as a population survey (Public Health in Europe No.4)

Family

The UN General Assembly in its resolution 44/82 of 8 December 1989, proclaimed 1994 as the International Year of the Family (IYF) with its theme of "Family: resources and responsibilities in a changing world." No attempt was made by the United Nations to define or delineate the "ideal family" or to direct "family policy" to specific goals. The concept of family is not easy to define. The family has been variously described as the nucleus and pillar of society and the natural bridge between the individual and society. The status of the family has also been referred to by the United Nations Committee on Civil and Political Rights. In commenting on Article 23 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, the committee noted that:

> "the concept of the family may differ in some respects from State to State, and even from region to region within a State, and that it is therefore not possible to give the concept a standard definition. However, the Committee emphasises that, when a group of persons is regarded as a family under the legislation and practices of a State, it must be given the protection referred to in article 23."

Source: Year of the Family (1994) the concept of family health (A47 INF.Doc. 7) 6 May 1994.

Family planning

Implies the ability of individuals and couples to anticipate and attain their desired number of children and the spacing and timing of their births. FP is achieved through contraception defined as any means capable of preventing pregnancy - and through the treatment of involuntary infertility. The contraceptive effect can be obtained through temporary or permanent means. Temporary methods include: periodic abstinence during the fertile period, coitus interruptus (withdrawal), using the naturally occurring periods of infertility (e.g. during breast-feeding and postpartum amenorrhoea), through the use of reproductive hormones (e.g. oral pills and long-acting injections and implants), placement of a device in the uterus (e.g. copper-bearing and hormone-releasing intrauterine devices), interposing a barrier that prevents the ascension of the sperm into the upper female genital trace (e.g. condoms, diaphragms, and spermicides). Permanent methods of contraception include male and female sterilization.

Source: Working definition used by the Special Programme of Research and Research Training in Human Reproduction, and the Division of Family Health.

Fertility regulation

Is the process by which individuals and couples regulate their fertility. Methods that can be used for this purpose include, among others, delaying child-bearing, using contraception, seeking treatment for infertility, interrupting unwanted pregnancies, and, in the case of mothers with an infant or a small child, breast-feeding.

Source: Working definition used by the Special Programme of Research and Research Training in Human Reproduction, and the Division of Family Health.

Fertility (Replacement level)

The level of fertility leading to a stable population size (no demographic increase of decline).

Fertility rate (Total) (TRF)

The average number of children that would be born alive to a woman during her lifetime if she were to pass through her childbearing years conforming to the age-specific fertility rates of a given year. The rate refers to a synthetic female cohort. It is computed by the summation of the age-specific fertility rates. The total fertility rate is also used to indicate replacement level fertility; in the more developed countries, a rate of 2.1 is considered to be replacement level.

Source: Recent demographic developments in Europe, 1997, Council of Europe

Fertilization and Conception

The concepts of fertilization and conception are often confused. Fertilization refers to the union of an ovum and a sperm. Conception has been defined by the American College of Obstetrics and Gynecology as occurring at the time of implantation of the fertilized ovum into the wall of the uterus - i.e. that point in the biological development corresponding to the beginning stages of a unique biological organism. The above distinction between fertilization and conception is used by the United States National Institutes of health in establishing various guidelines relevant to research in human reproduction.

Fetal Death:

Death prior to the complete expulsion or extraction from its mother of a product of conception, irrespective of the duration of pregnancy; the death is indicated by the fact that after such separation the fetus does not breathe or show any other evidence of life, such as beating of the heart, pulsation of the umbilical cord, or definite movement of voluntary muscles.

If gestation is less than 20 completed weeks, but less than 28 completed weeks, then death is called early fetal death. (International classification of diseases.)(WHO Technical Report Series, No. 25).

Intermediate fetal death.

(WHO Technical Report Series, No. 25, 1950 Expert Committee on Health Statistics: Report on the Second Session including reports on the First Sessions of the Subcommittees on definition of stillbirth, registration of cases of cancer and hospital statistics).

If gestation is 28 completed weeks or more, then death is called late fetal death.

(WHO Technical Report Series, No. 25).

Rationale: distinction among intrauterine deaths, antenatal deaths and fetal deaths during delivery is necessary to identify avoidable deaths (in principle, fetal deaths during delivery belong to this group) and to better analyse the problem.*

Implications for the quality of antenatal and delivery care.*

Fetal death rate prior to admission:

Intrauterine deaths after 22 completed weeks before admission to hospital as % of all > 22 weeks pregnancies.

(European Consensus Conference on Quality Assurance Indicators for perinatal Care, Tubingen*).*

G:

Gestational age

The duration of gestation is measured from the first day of the last normal menstrual period. Gestational age is expressed in completed days or completed weeks (e.g. events occurring 280 to 286 completed days after the onset of the last normal menstrual period are considered to have occurred at 40 weeks of gestation).

Gestational age is frequently a source of confusion, when calculations are based on menstrual dates. For the purposes of calculation of gestational age from the date of the first day of the last normal menstrual period and the date of delivery, it should be borne in mind that the first day is day zero and not day one; days 0-6 therefore correspond to "completed week zero"; days 7-13 to "completed week one", and the 40th week of actual gestation is synonymous with "completed week 39" Where the date of the last normal menstrual period is not available, gestational age should be based on the best clinical estimate. In order to avoid misunderstanding, tabulations should indicate both weeks and days. (International classification of diseases.)

H:

Health

"A state of complete physical, mental and social well-being and not merely the absence of disease or infirmity" (Public Health in Europe 4.)

Hospital

A hospital is a residential establishment which provides short-term and long-term medical care consisting of observational, diagnostic, therapeutic and rehabilitative services for persons suffering or suspected to be suffering from a disease or injury, and for parturients. It may or may not also provide services for ambulatory patients on an out-patient basis (Public Health in Europe 4).

Infant mortality rate:

annual number of deaths of infants under one year of age per 1,000 live births.
More specifically this is the probability of dying between birth and exactly one year of age (The State of the World's Children, 1992, UNICEF, p. 99).

$$\text{Infant mortality rate} = \frac{\text{Deaths under the age of 1 year after live birth x 1 000}}{\text{Live births}}$$

(Office of Population Censuses and Surveys (OPCS) (1991)

Instrumental delivery rate: forceps or vacuum extractor as % of all deliveries (European Consensus Conference on Quality Assurance Indicators for perinatal Care, Tubingen*).*

Infertility: Inability to conceive, more specifically:

Primary infertility
Means that the couple has never conceived, despite cohabitation and exposure to pregnancy for a period of 2 years.

Secondary infertility
Means that the couple has previously conceived, but is subsequently unable to conceive despite cohabitation and exposure to pregnancy for a period of 2 years. If the woman has breast-fed a previous infant, then exposure to pregnancy is calculated from the end of lactational amenorroehea.

L:

Late neonatal mortality rate: deaths day 7-27 after live birth x 1000/Iive births
(European Consensus Conference on Quality Assurance Indicators for perinatal Care, Tubingen**).

Deaths at 7-27 days after live birth x 1000
Late neonatal mortality rate = Live births
(Office of Population Censuses and Surveys (OPCS) (1991))

Life expectancy at birth: The number of years new-born children would live is subject to the mortality risks prevailing for the cross-section of population at the time of their birth. (The State of the World's Children, 1992, UNICEF, p. 99).

Live Birth: the complete expulsion or extraction from its mother of a product of conception, irrespective of the duration of pregnancy, which, after such separation, breathes or shows any other evidence of life, such as beating of the heart, pulsation of the umbilical cord, or definite movement of voluntary muscles, whether or not the umbilical cord has been cut or the placenta is attached; each product of such a birth is considered liveborn. (International classification of diseases.)

Note: For live births, birth weight should preferably be measured within the first hour of life before significant postnatal weight loss has occurred. While statistical tabulations include 500g groupings for birth weight, weights should not be recorded in those groupings. The actual weight should be recorded to the degree of accuracy to which it is measured. (WHA20.19, WHA43.24 Article 23, WHO Geneva).

M:

Major congenital malformations rate: according to specified list as % of all births (European Consensus Conference on Quality Assurance Indicators for perinatal Care, Tubingen).

Maternal death:

The death of a women while pregnant or within 42 days of termination of pregnancy, irrespective of the duration and site of the pregnancy, from any cause related to or aggravated by the pregnancy or its management but not from accidental or incidental causes. (The MATCARE Textbook. Copenhagen: European Regional Office, World Health Organization 1992. Resolution WHA20.19 and WHA43.24, Article 23).

Maternal death (late)

A late maternal death is the death of a woman from direct or indirect obstetric causes more than 42 days but less than one year after termination of pregnancy (International classification of Diseases).

Direct obstetric deaths:

Those resulting from obstetric complications of the pregnant state (pregnancy, labour and the puerperium) from interventions, omissions, incorrect treatment, or from a chain of events resulting from any of the above (expressed as rate per 1 000 live births) (The MATCARE Textbook. Copenhagen: European Regional Office, World Health Organization 1992, Resolution WHA20.19 and WHA43.24, Article 23).

Indirect obstetric deaths:

Those resulting from previous existing disease or disease that developed during pregnancy and which was not due to direct obstetric causes, but which was aggravated by physiologic effects of pregnancy (expressed as rate per 1 000 live births). (The MATCAR E Textbook. Copenhagen: European Regional Office, World Health Organization 199, Resolution WHA20.19 and WHA43.24, Article 23)..

Maternal mortality rate: Annual number of deaths of women from pregnancy related causes per 1 00,000 live births (The State of the World's Children).

Maternity care

The object of maternity care is to ensure that every expectant and nursing mother maintains good health, learns the art of child care, has a normal delivery and bears healthy children. Maternity care in the narrower sense consists in the care of the pregnant women, her safe delivery, her postnatal care and examination, the care of her newly born infant and the maintenance of lactation (Public Health in Europe 4).

Midwife

A person who, having been regularly admitted to a midwifery educational programme duly recognized in the country in which it is located, has successfully completed the prescribed course of studies in midwifery and has acquired the requisite qualifications to be registered and/or legally licensed to practice midwifery (Public Health in Europe 4).

Miscarriage

The accidental loss of a fetus before a full term pregnancy resulting in the death of the fetus

(Public Health in Europe 4).

N:

Neonatal Period

The neonatal period commences at birth and ends 28 completed days after birth. Neonatal deaths (deaths among live births during the first 28 completed days of life) may be subdivided into early neonatal deaths, occurring during the first seven days of life, and late neonatal deaths, occurring after the seventh day but before 28 completed days of life. (WHO Geneva WHA20.19, WHA43.24, Article 23).

Age at death during the first day of life (day zero) should be recorded in units of completed minutes or hours of life. For the second (day 1), third (day 2) and through 27 completed days of life, age at death should be recorded in days.

Neonatal mortality rate= $\frac{\text{deaths at 0-27 days after live birth } \mathbf{x}\ 1000}{\text{Live births}}$

P:

Perinatal period

The perinatal period commences at 22 completed weeks (1 54 days) of gestation (the time when birth weight is normally 500 g), and ends seven completed days after birth. (WHO Geneva, WHA20.19, WHA43.27, Article 23)

Perinatal mortality rate: subdivided in antenatal deaths + deaths in partu + deaths at 0-6 days after live birth x 1000/all births
(European Consensus Conference on Quality Assurance Indicators for perinatal Care, Tubingen).

Infant Postneonatal Mortality rate = $\frac{\text{deaths from 28 days to under 1 year after live birth x 1 000}}{\text{Live births}}$

Less than 37 completed weeks (less than 259 days of gestation). (International Classification of Diseases).

R:

Reproductive Health

Within the framework of WHO's definition of health as a state of complete physical, mental and social well-being, and not merely the absence of disease or infirmity, reproductive health addresses the reproductive processes, functions and system at ail stages of life.

Reproductive health implies that people are able to have responsible, satisfying and safe sex life and that they have the capability to reproduce and the freedom to decide if, when and how often to do so. Implicit in this are the right of men and women to be informed of and to have access to safe, effective, affordable and acceptable methods of fertility regulation of their choice, and the right of access to appropriate health care services that will enable women to go safely through pregnancy and childbirth and provide couples with the best chance of having a health infant.

(NB The definition of Reproductive Health presented in the ICPD document was a direct quote of draft report prepared by FHE and HRP for a document on Reproductive Health which was to be presented to the HRP PCC)

S:

Safe Motherhood

Safe motherhood aims at attaining optimal maternal and newborn health. It implies reduction of maternal mortality and morbidity and enhancement of the health of newborn infants through equitable access to primary health care including family planning, prenatal, delivery and postnatal care for the mother and infant, and access to primary health care including family planning, prenatal, delivery and postnatal care for the mother and infant, and access to essential obstetric and neonatal care.

Sexual Health

"While recognizing that it is difficult to arrive at a universally acceptable definition of the totality of human sexuality, the following definition of sexual health is presented as a step in this direction:

Sexual health is the integration of the somatic, emotional, intellectual, and social aspects of sexual being in ways that are positively enriching and that enhance personality, communication, and love.

...Thus the notion of sexual health implies a positive approach to human sexuality, and the purposes of sexual health care should be the enhancement of life and personal relationships and not merely the counselling and care related to procreation or sexually transmitted diseases.

Source: Education and Treatment in Human Sexuality: the Training of Health Professionals, A report from a WHO meeting, Technical Report Series 572, World Health Organization, 1975. (N.B. This quote starting on line 4, without quotation marks or attribution to Who, is included as the definition of sexual health in the ICPD document para 7.1)

Sexuality

Human sexuality is a natural part of human development through every phase of life and includes physical, psychological, and social components. Sexual health implies a positive approach to human sexuality and is therefore an essential component of reproductive health. It includes the integration of somatic, emotional, intellectual, and social aspects of an individual in ways which positively enrich and enhance personality, communication, love and human relationships.

Stillbirth:

Birth of a baby showing no signs of life. For international comparisons of perinatal mortality rates only such stillborn infants with a birth weight of 1000 gr. or more are included (from 1989 it is recommended that the lower weight limit should be 500 gr). Sometimes stillborn babies are not weighed , in these cases a gestational age of 28 completed weeks or a body length of 35 cm can be taken as equivalent to 1000 gr birth weight.

Stillbirth rate = $\frac{\text{Stillbirths x 1000}}{\text{live births + stillbirths}}$

IRREVOCABLE INTER VIVOS

DEED OF GIFT

FROM: Pavao Nikola Matic

TO: Sabina Matic

THIS IS an irrevocable inter vivos Deed of Gift given by me, Pavao Nikola Matic, of Perth, Western Australia, Australia. My purpose in completing this document is to give effect to my wishes regarding gifts I wish to make during my lifetime to family and friends. To that end, I provide as follows:

1. I GUARANTEE that I am the sole owner of the property which forms the subject matter of this Deed of Gift and that such property is free from all claims and encumbrances.

2. I REVOKE all prior dispositions of every kind previously made by me respecting the subject matter of this irrevocable Deed of Gift, whether by a previous Deed of Gift or contained in my Will.

3. I APPOINT Sandi, of Perth, Western Australia, Australia to carry out my instructions in this irrevocable Deed of Gift. If Sandi has predeceased me, or declines to act as my Agent, or becomes incapable of completing his or her duties, then I appoint Sandi Matic, of Perth, Western Australia, Australia to be the Agent of this irrevocable Deed of Gift instead of Sandi, and I declare that the expression "Agent" wherever used throughout this irrevocable Deed of Gift means any alternate Agent.

4. I GIVE to my Agent all of the property specified in this irrevocable Deed of Gift upon the following trusts:

    a. If I have died, or if I have lost contractual capacity, my Agent will transfer the following property to the respective donee, Sabina Matic of Perth, Western Australia, Australia as soon as possible: Family home located at 3 19 Pollard Street Glendalough in State of Western Australia.

    b. If Sabina Matic has predeceased me:

        i. if I am still living, ownership of the property specified will revert to me or my legal personal representative(s); or

        ii. if I have died, the property will revert back to my estate and will be dealt with according to the provisions of my Last Will and Testament.

5. I declare that, by delivering this irrevocable Deed of Gift to Sabina Matic, I will be transferring legal ownership of the property to Sabina Matic, even though I may continue to retain possession of the property. When I die or have lost contractual capacity, I direct my Agent to deliver the property to Sabina Matic for his or her own use free and clear of all claims that may exist at that time against me or my estate.

6. In addition to any power conferred on my Agent by any statute or law, my Agent's powers will also include:

   a. without the consent of any person interested under my Last Will and Testament or other legal document, to make any agreement with any other person or company, and to compromise, settle or waive any claim or claims at any time and from time to time due to or by my estate in connection with the property referred to in this irrevocable Deed of Gift;

   b. to join in or take any action in connection with property held by my estate which forms the subject matter of this my irrevocable Deed of Gift, or to which my estate may be entitled, and to exercise any rights, powers and privileges which at any time may exist or arise in connection with such property;

   c. to do, on my behalf, any and all acts, which I could do if capable, subject to any conditions and restrictions contained herein and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, to demand, recover and receive from all and every or any person or persons whosoever any investment or asset which forms the subject matter of this my irrevocable Deed of Gift. In the event that this irrevocable Deed of Gift is activated by my loss of mental capacity, my Agent shall have the authority to act as my litigation guardian, if one is required to commence, continue, defend or represent me in any Court proceeding concerning any investment or asset held by my estate, or to which I may be entitled, which forms the subject matter of this my irrevocable Deed of Gift;

   d. in the event that this irrevocable Deed of Gift becomes effective on my death, to join in or take any action in connection with any property held by my estate which forms the subject matter of this my irrevocable Deed of Gift to ensure that the same is withheld from any division, allocation or distribution of my estate, or of any part thereof, so as to prevent the said investment or asset from being deemed to fall into my residuary estate, and accordingly be subject to the rules of testamentary succession; and

   e. in case of any difference or dispute with any person or persons concerning the subject matter of this irrevocable Deed of Gift, to submit any such differences and disputes to arbitration or mediation in such manner as my said Agent shall see fit.

7. Any person acting as an Agent pursuant to this irrevocable Deed of Gift will be entitled to be reimbursed for all expenses incurred in doing so, and in the event that he or she wishes, will be entitled to be paid for his or her efforts in so doing, according to the usual scale of fees relating to such activities as if they had been carried out in the context of the administration of an estate, as it is not my intention that any person named as an Agent will be placed in a position where the discharge of his of her duties as an Agent causes him or her financial loss.

8. The provisions of this irrevocable Deed of Gift and any disputes which may arise will be interpreted, construed or determined in accordance with the laws of Western Australia.

9. I indemnify and release my Agent from any liability which may result from his or her carrying out my instructions in this matter. I instruct any person acting on my behalf pursuant to a Power of Attorney, if I am still alive, or appointed pursuant to any testamentary document if I have died, to hold my Agent fully harmless out of the proceeds of my estate from all costs and expenses incurred by him or her in doing so.

NATIONAL ARCHIVES OF AUSTRALIA

STATEMENT OF REASONS FOR DECISION UNDER SECTION 40(5) OF THE ARCHIVES ACT 1983

Series	A8425
Control Symbol	F1997/169658
Item ID	25909498
Title	Matic, Pavao-Nikola
Decision Maker	s. 22(1)(a)(ii)
Designation	APS6
Date	2 June 2023

In accordance with requirements of subsection 8(1) of the Archives Act 1983 (Cth) (Archives Act), I am a person authorised by the Director-General, pursuant to an Instrument of Delegation, to make a decision in relation to access to the requested item.

Basis for decision
In making my decision, I considered:

- the content of the item requested
- the relevant provisions of the Archives Act 1983
- policy and guidelines of National Archives of Australia that relate to the access examination of Commonwealth records
- information provided by Commonwealth agencies which I have relied upon in formulating my decision

Decision
After examining this item I have decided that this item is closed under 33(1)(d) and (g) of the Archives Act for the reasons set out below.

The findings of facts

Section 33(1)(d) of the Archives Act provides that:

a record is exempt from public access if it contains information or matter the disclosure of which under this Act would constitute a breach of confidence.

Section 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act 1983 provides that:

a record is exempt if it contains information or matter the disclosure of which under this Act would involve the unreasonable disclosure of information relating to the personal affairs of any person (including a deceased person).

Released by the Department of Home Affairs under the Freedom of Information Act 1982

This record contains information:

- provided in confidence.
- concerning the personal, medical or financial affairs of a named person or people.

Reasons for decision

Section 33(1)(d)
The information was provided with the expectation that it would remain confidential

The public disclosure of this information would constitute a breach of confidence.

There is no evidence that this information was ever published or that the subject of the file ever expected publication.

Section 33(1)(g)

The information exempted is of a nature such that its disclosure could lead to an unreasonable intrusion on the personal affairs of a person or persons.

The information is of a kind that most members of the community would not want disclosed about themselves. There is nothing in the item that suggests the information was widely known in the community at the time.

There is no evidence in the item that suggests that when the information was gathered, the subject expected it to be made publicly known or that it has become known in the intervening years.

Disclosure of the information would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information.

Review of decision
The National Archives of Australia (the Archives) carefully examines items before deciding to exempt any part of them. As part of that process we may consult with other agencies which have expertise on specific national and international matters.

If you do not agree with the decision, you can formally appeal within 28 days of receiving a decision:

1. by first applying to the Archives for an internal reconsideration of my decision; and

2. if you still do not agree with the decision, you can apply to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal for a review.

Note: Died: In this city, on Friday, the 3rd inst. (3 March 1876) at the residence, of H. J Callbeck, Esq., relict of the late Thomas Robinson, Esq. of Brighton Lodge, in the 100th year of her age. The funeral will leave her late residence Monday, the 6th, inst., friends and family are requested to attend (The Patriot, Saturday, March 1876) In our obituary column, today (?) will be found the notice of the death of Mrs. Robinson, who was, perhaps, the oldest inhabitant of the Colony. The old lady enjoyed good health almost up to the time of the death. Mr. Robert McConnell, Mrs. Robinson's father, came to this country from Wigton, Scotland, as early as the year 1772, and settled in Elliot or West River, where Mrs. Robinson was born. Her mother was the only daughter of General McDonald (Clanronald) who let his father's clan at Culloden in 1746, and afterward sealed his devotion to the House of Hanover, with his life at King's Bridge, North Carolina in February 1776. Two of his sons the year previous fell in the British service at the Battle of Bunker Hill, and another son received a wound that disabled him for life in the same conflict. Mrs. Robinson lived to see farms and wide clearings take the place of the wilderness, and the introduction of all modern improvements of the present age. Her long life came to a close on the morning of Friday the 3d, drying as she lived a humble follower of Christ.

  Additional information:

LifeSketch: John's birth father, it seems, was William Devey who died in June 1865 when John was just 6 years old. John's mother (Susannah Phillips) had left William Devey around 1859 and entered into a relationship with James Cunningham. James and Susannah had 5 children with the eldest being Abraham born on 21st February 1860. John's birth record is elusive but the baptismal certificate attached to the 1868 Application for Admission to the Queen's Orphan School for his brother William and half brother Abraham gives us a date of birth for John of 6th September 1858. There are enough documents that support the family story that John's birth father was William Devey and that he 'took' the name Cunningham as a child about the time Susannah commenced her relationship with James. The above mentioned application states that James and Susannah (aka Susan) never married. I have attached a source document to the record of John's brother [William Cunningham (LCJC-D99)] which consists of Digital Images (9 images) of file for the Application for Admission to Queen's Orphan School at New Town (a suburb of Hobart, Tasmania, Australia) for William Davey (age 11 - incorrectly stated in the file to be 10 1/2) and his brother Abraham Davey (aged 8). The file contains some very useful information about their parents and siblings, including for John. This includes:- (1) that the parents are stated by James Cunningham as being himself (which is not the case for William and John as their father was William Devey) and Susan Phillips (noted that her name was written as Davey which has then been crossed out), that James Cunningham arrived in the colony of Tasmania on the ship "Marion" and that he was Free by Servitude on 13 March 1859 (meaning he was transported from Great Britain as a convict), (2) the boys names being shown as Davey by the Evandale (Tasmania, Australia) Police Officer who filled in the application dated 17 April 1868 whereas later in the file their surnames are listed as Cunningham and also the boys are recorded as stating to the Orphan School authorities that their surname is Davey and not Cunningham, (3) advice from the Evandale local officials that the parents were never married, that the boys were baptised into the name Cunningham and other information including (4) the reason for the application being that the parents stole a 5 pound note and were to be sentenced to 24 months (James Cunningham) and 12 months (Susan Phillips) hard labour and that the parents subsequently were freed after serving their sentences and well able to look after their children. There is also a certificate attached to the file from Robert Russell, Presbyterian Minister of Religion in Evandale dated 17 April 1868 stating he baptised 4 boys on 27 August 1866, the children of James Cunningham and Susan Cunningham whose maiden name was Phillips. The names (William, John, Abraham and Alexander) and birth dates of the boys are given. Point (1) above notes that the claim by James Cunningham that he is the father of William and John is incorrect. James lived with but never married William and Johns' mother Susan (aka Susannah) Phillips. Susan never married William Devey but she took his name whilst living with him and then later took the name of Cunningham when she went to live with James Cunningham around 1859 and with whom she had further children. To clarify, William and Johns' father was William Devey (name morphed to Davey) and the boys were only about 2 years and 1 year old when Susan presumably left William and went to live with James Cunningham whose name, like their mother (Susan), they subsequently took on. John married Harriet Boyd on 26th February 1878 in Lymington (near Evandale, Tasmania, Australia). There was an article in the local newspaper (North Eastern Advertiser) in 1938 on the occasion of their 60th wedding anniversary that has useful information about John and Harriets' lives including that which loosely fits the events of John's early years.*

611. HARRIET BOYD (Edgar's mother) was born on 16 June 1859, in Evandale, Tasmania, Australia. She died on 29 September 1943, aged 84 years, in Launceston, Tasmania, Australia. She was buried on 1 October 1943 in Launceston Carr Villa Memorial Park, Kings Meadows, Tasmania, Australia.

25. FAMILY TREES

Each family tree shows the reported children, parents, grandparents and great-grandparents of a family group. In order to reduce redundancy, any family group which is wholly included within another family tree may not be reported separately.

Above each of the great-grandparent boxes (top row), a continuation family tree reference number is shown if the great-grandparent is recorded as a child in the continuation tree. A continuation reference number is also shown to the left of a grandparent or parent box if that individual has siblings reported in the continuation tree; and beneath a child box (bottom row) if that individual has children reported in the continuation tree.

In cases of multiple marriages, a continuation reference number preceded by "=" is shown to the right of a parent box. This number references the previous and/or next tree in which that individual is shown with another partner.

In cases of adopted (or fostered) children, the parental connection is shown with a dashed line and a continuation reference number preceded by "=" is shown within the individual's box. This number references the tree in which that individual is shown with his or her natural parents.

27. SOURCES

1. "1851 England & Wales Census" in "MyHeritage"
   What can you find in the census?Census returns can help you determine who your ancestors were, and can also tell you:- Where your ancestors were living- Who they were living with- What their occupations were- If they had any servants- Who their neighbours were- If they had any brothers and sisters- What their ages were at the time of the census- If they had any disabilities.As well as giving you the above information, the fact that census returns are taken every ten years also allows you to track the movements of your ancestors through time as they perhaps move house, get married, have children or even change occupations.The fields which have been transcribed for the census are:- First name- Middle name- Last name- Sex- Birth place- Age- Place of residence- County- Relationship to head of householdWhy this collection is so valuableCensus records are valuable since they can tell you where a person lived at a certain place and time. Censuses were conducted by the federal government and will offer a variety of information, depending on year. Census records can answer questions like where your ancestors were living at the time the census was taken, who they were living with, what their occupations were, who their neighbors were, if they had any brothers and sisters, what their ages were at the time of the census and if they had any disabilities.Searching the censusThe golden rule of family history is to check the original historical record, or 'primary source', wherever possible. We have provided clear images of the original census enumeration books for you to view once you've found the right family in the indexes. When using census returns you should first search the transcriptions to help locate your ancestor in the census, and then view the original images to validate your findings. It will also help you see the household in the context of surrounding households. This is particularly important as transcribing an entire census is a huge and difficult task, and whilst we have used the expertise of our transcribers and the experience of key representatives from the genealogy community to help us translate the records, it is inevitable that there will be some errors.Next stepsWith the information you gain from these census records, you will have the information you need to search for vital records in the locality where you found your ancestor. Also, the fact that census returns are taken every ten years also allows you to track the movements of our ancestors through time as they perhaps move house, get married, have children or even change occupations.

5. "Australia, Business Register" in "MyHeritage"
   The Australian Business Number (ABN) is a unique 11-digit identifier used to identify and track businesses operating in Australia. It was introduced by the Australian government in 2000 as a means of simplifying business registration and reducing the regulatory burden on businesses.Any business that is operating in Australia or that has Australian customers is required to have an ABN. The ABN is used for a range of purposes, including taxation, invoicing, and government registration. It is also used by other businesses and organizations when dealing with the business, such as when providing goods and services or entering into contracts.The records in this collection are © Commonwealth of Australia 2020.

6. "Australia, Victoria Death Index, 1836-1985" in "MyHeritage"
   The bulk of the records begin in 1853 — the year civil registration began in Victoria. Information provided in this index can be used to purchase a copy of the full death record; uncertified copies (downloadable images) can be purchased and downloaded from the Births Deaths Marriages Victoria website. Obtaining a copy of a full death record is important because it will likely list additional information about the deceased and his or her death.

53. "U.S. Social Security Applications and Claims, 1936-2007" in "MyHeritage"
Starting in 1936 the Social Security Administration started to maintain records of each individual who applied for a Social Security Number. The earliest form of these records were known as the "Master Files of the Social Security (SSN) Holders and SSN Applications". This was more commonly known simply as the "Enumeration System". In the 1970s legacy records from this system were migrated and new records were maintained electronically in the Numerical Identification System (NUMIDENT). This collection contains records of individuals with a verified death between 1936 and 2007 or who would have been over 110 years old by December 31, 2007. There are three types of entries in NUMIDENT: applications (SS-5), claims, and death entries. The records of applications and claims are presented here in this collection. The death entries are available on MyHeritage as the U.S. Social Security Death Index (SSDI). The application (SS-5) records contain information extracted from the SS-5 form "Application for a Social Security Card" or "Application for Social Security Account Number." Information in the NUMIDENT application entries include applicant's full name, father's name, mother's maiden name, sex, race/ethnic description, place of birth, and other information about the application and subsequent changes to the applicant's record - such as name changes especially common (and even required) when women marry. For about 43 percent of social security numbers, there are multiple application records. The application records preserved by the Social Security Administration do not include records of all social security applications between 1936 and 2007. Information of applications prior to 1973 may be incomplete. There may not be a record for an individual in both the application records and the death entries and there are nearly 6 million social security numbers in the application records that do not appear in the death entries. And conversely, there are records in the death entries that have no corresponding extant record in the application entries. The claim records include information on the type of claim, the claimant's full name, date of birth, gender, and for about half of the claim records the US state or country of birth. For a small number of social security numbers there are multiple claim records. Records in this collection may have place names that were abbreviated or personal names that were truncated in the data supplied by the Social Security Administration. MyHeritage has corrected and expanded many of these when possible but other values remain abbreviated or truncated.

54. "U.S. Social Security Death Index (SSDI)" in "MyHeritage"
Begun in 1935 by the Social Security Act signed into law by FDR, more than thirty million Americans were registered for the economic security sanctions by 1937. From 1937 to 1940, payments were made in one-lump sums amounts with the first amount being seventeen cents. Following amendments in 1939, the payments turned into monthly benefits and increased. Following further amendments in 1950, cost-of-living increases were awarded to those who were receiving benefits. From 1950 to the present, benefits have increased yearly in response to inflation concerning the costs of living.
